This group was created by local business owners and professionals who realized the need for a community platform to collaborate, share information and ideas to help each other efficiently grow their businesses.

A story of hops and dreams.

ARGENTBANK

For a guy like Leon at Lagunitas Brewery, the recent hops shortage was a pretty big deal. Fortunately, he had Argent Bank in his corner. Argent helped him buy hops directly from the growers. The collaboration not only expedited the process, it led Leon and the growers to create new strains just for Lagunitas—turning a hops shortage into a custom recipe for success. See this story and others at BankWithArgent.com
